Flea & Tick Prevention

Year-round protection, chosen thoughtfully

Parasite risk varies by region and season. A consistent, veterinarian-approved plan helps protect your puppy and household.

Choose prevention with your vet

- ■ Confirm minimum age and minimum weight on the exact product label
- ■ Confirm whether the product protects against fleas, ticks, or other parasites
- ■ Ask how often to apply or give it, and what to do after a missed dose
- ■ Tell the vet about seizures, health concerns, medications, and supplements
- ■ Keep the package and record the product name and date used

At-home checks

- ■ After outdoor time, check coat and skin for ticks, especially around ears, collar, toes, and under legs
- ■ Wash bedding and vacuum resting areas regularly if fleas are a concern
- ■ Use only pet-safe environmental products according to label directions
- ■ Treat household pets only with products specifically approved for each animal
- ■ Contact your vet if you find many fleas/ticks or notice itching, skin irritation, weakness, or illness
